

Dear Guests,

We would like to share with you the information with regards to the current situation in Italy to reassure you that Italy is safe with the effective measures undertaken by the Italian authorities to protect both the Italian citizens and also everyone who travels to Italy.

Your health and wellness is of the utmost priority to us and we are closely following the necessary and precautionary measures outlined by the Ministry of Health.

The areas interested by the infection are at this time limited and kept under strict control to avoid that the virus spreads any further.

Our everyday life continues as always and we are very confident that the situation will return to normal very soon.

We are looking forward to welcoming you soon at Armani Hotel Milano.

Best Regards,

Giuseppe Losciale
